Perhaps I'll take the TrenoBLU

The "train of flavours" service begins again in May, in discovery of Lombardy, for a spot of sightseeing

May is the month that each year welcomes the season of trips out of town, a custom that has almost become a tradition. But to truly respect this tradition, we must take the train: perhaps not everyone knows, but the first Italian railway was inaugurated in Naples in 1839 so that Nucleo Onlus social cooperative and the Fondazione FS, the TrenoBLU initiative, now in its 23rd year, will transport people from Milan (departure from Stazione Centrale - Central Station) and Bergamo in discovery of Lake Iseo and the surrounding area, visiting some of Lombardy's small picturesque villages and enjoying mouth-watering gastronomic delights. Today, as in yesteryear, it has to be said, because passengers will travel on old steam trains, pulled by the legendary Signorina, a puffing locomotive dating back to 1913. Events are scheduled from May to July and then again from September to November, mainly along the Palazzolo sull'Oglio - Paratico Sarnico tourist line. A full package is available for anyone wishing to enjoy a complete experience, which includes a ride on the train, a boat trip, a typical lunch and visits to some local villages. On 18-19 and 25-26 June and 2-3 July, the train will travel to the unique event, "The Floating Piers" by the Bulgarian-American artist Christo, which between mid-June and the beginning of July will connect Monteisola to Sulzano and the small island of San Paolo using floating boardwalks. Therefore, if the world is truly the same wherever you go, then why not say it? Facemmoci 'nu viaggio - let's take a trip. ■ the royal court could travel to the Palace of Portici, the then summer residence of the Bourbon family. Getaways in holiday resorts soon became a widespread phenomenon, and some Neapolitans got into debt just so that they could take a trip away. Today, fortunately, it's a desire that is within everyone's reach, and with the first signs of spring we begin to leave the confines of the city in search of peace and tranquillity, not just in Campania, but the whole of Italy: beaches, mountains, countryside, lakes and castles, according to what each region has to offer. The offer from the associations Ferrovia del Basso Sebino (Lower Sebino Railway) and Ferrovia Turistica Camuna (Camuna Tourist Railway), in collaboration with Il
